Municipal Elections

In Newfoundland and Labrador, general municipal elections are held every four years on the last Tuesday in September.

When a council position becomes vacant and there is more than 12 months before the next municipal election, a by-election is to be held to fill the vacancy. A by-election for a Councillor position is held when a position becomes vacant.

The last full municipal election in Paradise was in September 2017, and there was a by election for one council position in May 2019.

The next election will be held on Tuesday, September 28, 2021, with the Advanced Polling dates are scheduled for Saturday, September 18 and Saturday, September 25. This election marks the first time the electorate will also have the option to vote by mail.

Administration of Municipal Elections

Returning Officer

The Returning Officer is responsible for administering the municipal election. For the Town of Paradise, this individual is Terrilynn Smith, CPA, Director of Corporate Services and Town Clerk. In addition to the Returning Officer, an alternate Returning Officer is appointed to perform the duties of the Returning Officer if individual cannot perform the required duties. The Alternate Returning Officer for the 2021 election is Lisa Niblock, Chief Administrative Officer.

Polls

The Town of Paradise does not have a ward system (i.e., a geographic area that an elected councillor would represent) but rather council members are elected at large. Paradise is divided into polls.

Poll Officials

The Returning Officer (RO) appoints a Deputy Returning Officer (DRO) and a Poll Clerk for each poll.

The DRO is responsible for the overall administration of the polling division on voting day. The poll clerk is responsible for keeping the written records of the voting.
